Finding A Job

Go online to find a job. Some great websites to do this are craigslist, monster.com, indeed.com, and https://www.muni.org/departments/employee_relations/pages/jol.aspx. Alternatively, you could go to individual business’ websites and look for job posting there. Find three jobs that are a good fit for you and record some information about them here.

Career #1
Job Title:
Employer:

Where did you find this posting?

Do you meet the requirements for the job? What specifically makes you more qualified than another candidate?

What is the salary? Is this an hourly wage, or contract salary? If it is contract salary, calculate the hourly wage by dividing it by 50 and then again by 40 to get a good estimate of the hourly pay.

Does this job provide medical and dental insurance? Retirement plans? Vacation pay?

What do you like most and least about this option?

Career #2
Job Title:
Employer:

Where did you find this posting?

Do you meet the requirements for the job? What specifically makes you more qualified than another candidate?

What is the salary? Is this an hourly wage, or contract salary? If it is contract salary, calculate the hourly wage by dividing it by 50 and then again by 40 to get a good estimate of the hourly pay.
Does this job provide medical and dental insurance? Retirement plans? Vacation pay?

What do you like most and least about this option?

Career #3
Job Title:
Employer:

Where did you find this posting?

Do you meet the requirements for the job? What specifically makes you more qualified than another candidate?

What is the salary? Is this an hourly wage, or contract salary? If it is contract salary, calculate the hourly wage by dividing it by 50 and then again by 40 to get a good estimate of the hourly pay.

Does this job provide medical and dental insurance? Retirement plans? Vacation pay?

What do you like most and least about this option?

Reflection
Which position do you like best? Why? Do you feel qualified to get this job?

Which position do like least? What do you not like about it?